

WAS CLOSE GAME AND HARD FOUGHT

Spiders Lose to William and Mary By Score of 4 to 0.

SENSATIONAL KICK BY MEADE

Game is Snappy Throughout, With Both Teams in Fine Form.

Yesterday's game between Richmond College and the College of William and Mary resulted in a score of 4 to nothing in favor of the visitors.

A fairly large crowd turned out to the game, and rooters for both sides were in particular evidence. The day was ideal, there being just enough crispness in the air to impart the wonted vigor to the players.

Unlike the last time that the two teams met and fought it out to a bitter end, with a score to neither side, under a continuous downpour, the grounds were in perfect condition, and everything was as thoroughly in harmony with the game as the most ardent foot-ball enthusiast could well wish for.

Both teams were in fine fettle, and showed the results of better training and better preparation than has heretofore been evident. The game was characterized by snap, aggressive vigor, and, in foot-ball terms, "hiking." If there be any difference in the relative strength of the two teams, it was not made apparent yesterday. Equal, as far as could be judged, in weight, strength and in team work, there could have been no finer display of offensive and defensive work on the part of both teams in the smaller class of colleges.

Immediately after the ball had dallied long in the center of the field, was at length decided by the exceptionally good kicking of Meade, left half for the orange and white. From the twenty-five yard line, with the spiders holding splendidly, Meade delivered a drop kick, which sailed squarely over the goal, and landed exactly centrally behind the goal line.

The feat was hailed with cheers by the followers of both sides. It was the star feature of the game, and as such was heralded by acclaim from both enemies and friends.

In Center of Field.

The equal strength of both teams was noted no more than by the fact that the pigskin hovered over the center of the field through nearly the whole game. Both teams would make long gains, but ever as a long dash was made, the oval would inevitably come back to the center of the field, as if undecided whether to make its scoring field.

Star players played a feature game on both sides. Mensch, Throckmorton and Hardy, for the home team, and Meade, Walls and Summers, for the visitors.

Meade delivered a drop kick at quarter, made his usual splendid display. Throckmorton skirted the William and Mary ends for several good gains, and Hardy showed himself in fine form by his line work. Meade made some fine runs, and featured on his kicking. Walls won perhaps the loudest applause by his wonderful hurdling, and Summers, in his first appearance as quarter, showed good head work.

The game was clean and hard fought from beginning to end, and showed the utmost fairness.

Details of the Game.

In the first half William and Mary won the toss, and chose to defend the west goal. Richmond kicked, and Hank Walls received the ball on the 20 yard line. Meade was given the ball, and went out of bounds. The ball was replaced, and Walls, in a splendid hurdle, won five yards. A mass play was tried, and resulted in no gain. Walls then hurdled another yard, and the visitors had to kick on the third down. Mensch received the punt on the 50 yard line, and made 3 yards. Throckmorton skirted right, and made 5 yards. Hardy made a yard, then 2-1/2 yards, and the ball was kicked on the third down. Summers caught the kicking oval on the 40 yard line, and with a tackle play, Hankins plunged through the line for 4 yards. Meade in a good run won to the 10 yard line, and Walls turned, for 2-1/2 yards, and then made the down at the 10 yard line. Johnson tried the line ineffectually, the homers holding like beeches. Hankins then went through for a small gain, and Walls, who was always called upon in a tight place, leaped his usual five. Two more attempts were ineffectual, and Walls lost the ball on the 28 yard line. The invincible Throckmorton skirted the end for 10 yards, and made a small gain until the ball was lost on downs. Meade was given the oval, and was thrown for a loss by Wright for 5 yards. Walls returned 2, and on the third down the visitors formed to kick. Mensch received the ball on the 30 yard line, and was downed. Here Goch was substituted for Timan. Throckmorton plunged through the line

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ANNAPOLIS, MD., October 21.—The Navy foot-ball team defeated the eleven North Carolina here this afternoon by a score of 39 to 0, gaining an unexpected victory. The Navy team again demonstrated that it is a wonderful scoring aggregation, and the visitors were utterly unable to stop the Navy's dashing backs. The visiting team was composed of at least six heavy men as the midshipmen, but were not in the same class as the Navy players.

The weak point of the North Carolina players was their tackling, and they appeared unskilled in sharp, strong drives at the runner. Time and time again one of the visitors would have his hands on a midshipman runner, but could not hold him.

Good End Work.

Townsend and Wright played good games at end, and would generally break up the interference, but the loose man was almost always the runner, and there would be no one to get him.
Coach Dashiell's again added the policy of running in fresh substitutes all through the game, thus giving almost all the likely candidates something to do. This policy has resulted in great uncertainty as to whom the first team men are, and not more than one or two of the positions are at all sure.

The work of Norton and Decker at quarter was compared to-day, as both are making a hard fight for the position. His drop kicking gives Norton a start for the position, but Decker's runs were the feature to-day, and he moves the team a little faster.
Bernard and Spencer also got in long sprints during the contest. In the second half, the play was more open and spectacular.

Brown Varsity Beaten.

PHILADELPHIA, October 21.—Pennsylvania to-day defeated Brown University at football by a score of 8 to 6. The score does not correctly show the relative strength of the two elevens as Pennsylvania should have scored at least three touchdowns while Brown did not cross the Pennsylvania goal.

Cadets Had No Trouble in Defeating the Sign-Makers.
(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
BLACKSBURG, VA., October 21.—V. P. I. had no trouble in defeating Gallaudet in a perfectly clean game. Not a single penalty was administered. During the first half the Techs had their first team in, except Treadwell, and by the brilliant end runs by Carpenter, Wobber and Nutter, and line plays by Harlan, Lewis, Sticking, Willson and Hynes succeeded

A GREAT FAVORITE.

Rosben, a three-year-old, owned by Davy C. Johnson, has become a great favorite over the country. All the sporting men wonder at the remarkable powers this horse has developed in the past season. When Rosben first appeared on the track he was hardly noticed, but he turned out to be as sound as steel and all the track men keep an anxious eye on him.

In piling up 41 points in twenty minutes, when the second half opened up only Carpenter and Lewis of the first team, appeared on the field. The others were second team men, but they scored 15 points in ten minutes.

For Gallaudet's Nukesell (elder), Hich and Horton did excellent work, but lack of weight enough to make plays count. The line-up:

INDIANS DEFEAT DICKINSON

HARRISBURG, Pa., October 21.—The Carlisle Indians defeated Dickinson College by 28 to 6 in a rough game of foot ball to-day at Island Park. Captain Davis, of Dickinson, was injured in a fight with Dubois, an Indian, in the second half and was carried off the field and placed in the care of a physician. Several Dickinson players were hurt, but not badly enough to keep them out of the game in the light between the two teams which followed the clash between Davis and Dubois.

Harvard, 6; West Point, 0.

(By Associated Press.)
WEST POINT, N. Y., October 21.—Harvard defeated West Point's foot-ball eleven to-day by the score of 6 to 0, although the Army team gained nearly twice as much ground as their opponents. Surprised by West Point's unexpected attack, Harvard was in danger of defeat until late in the game, when it scored on a fumble of West Point.

Although the play of both teams was marred by fumbling and penalties, the entire thirty-five minutes' play was filled with spectacular runs and open plays, which attracted an audience of several thousand spectators at a high pitch of excitement. A gale of wind, which swept the field lengthwise, caught the punts and frequently carried the ball nearly fifty feet above the ground for two-thirds of the gridiron length. Wind made it practically impossible to catch the punts safely. It was during the scramble on hands and knees after one of these fumbled kicks that Harvard scored.

Princeton, 22; Lafayette, 4.

PRINCETON, N. J., October 21.—Princeton defeated Lafayette this afternoon in a hard-fought game, by the score of 22 to 4. During the first half Princeton played aggressively and pounded the opposing line unmercifully, making three touchdowns, due chiefly to the success of Hard and Daub in carrying the ball. In the second half, however, Lafayette played a wonderful defensive, and outplayed Princeton in all departments.

English Pilgrims Won.

NEW YORK, October 21.—About 4,000 persons gathered at the Polo Grounds to-day to see the association foot-ball game between the Pilgrims of England, and a picked eleven from clubs in the vicinity of Greater New York. The visiting team won by a score of 7 goals to 1.

Danville, 30; Franklin, 0.

DANVILLE, VA., October 21.—The Danville Military Institute defeated the Franklin Military Institute here this afternoon by a score of 30 to 0. Coach Hardin of the D. M. I., made several sensational touchdowns.

THE RECORD OF FOOTBALL AWFUL

Forty-five Deaths and Hundreds of Serious Injuries in Five Years Past.

DUE TO HEAVY MASS PLAYS

Thousands of Minor Hurts, of Which No Record Has Ever Been Made.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Forty-five deaths and hundreds of serious injuries in the record of football for the last five years. Hardly a single game has been played during which it has not been necessary to carry one or more of the players from the field. In almost every instance the death or injury was due directly to the heavy mass plays against which President Roosevelt and the country at large are protesting so vigorously.

To chronicle all the injuries would require the use of thousands of names, and even then none would be included where the hurt was of a less serious character than the bruising of a collar bone. The mere spraining of an ankle is not considered of sufficient importance to interest anybody except the individual player, and perhaps his parents.

But in the big college games alone the list of injuries is large enough to prove interesting, showing, as it does, ten legs and fourteen collar bones broken in four years of play for a brief six weeks each, to say nothing of four skulls fractured, five spines injured, four shoulders dislocated and a couple of broken noses. One player got his neck broken without its causing his death.

Of the forty-five who gave their lives to football, nearly every death may be traced to the "runner's edema," against which Mr. Roosevelt has protested. Picked up unconscious from beneath a mass of other players, it was generally found that the victim had been kicked in the head or stomach so as to cause internal injuries or concussion of the brain, which sooner or later ended in life.

Sixteen died as a result of internal injuries, four from broken necks, six from concussion of the brain, eight from broken backs, three from paralysis, two from heart failure, one from lockjaw, one from blood poisoning, due to a cut received in a game, and one from hemorrhages and two from meningitis, induced by spinal injuries suffered in play.

But those who maintain that the game is in danger of being buried beneath an avalanche of popular disapproval have plenty of evidence on which to argue their point, that the very best players are in constant peril, if not of their lives at least of receiving injuries which may weaken them for life.

Ellis, of Harvard, for instance, in 1905, was out after the game with West Point. De Witt, Princeton, was out for two weeks after the game for a broken collar bone, and taken out of the game for weeks at a time because of injuries. Roper and Davis, two of the orange and black's most promising players, were out with broken ribs and a cracked spine. Perry Hale, Yale's big full back in that year, hurt both his knee and ankle seriously before the big game with Princeton.

Wiley and Burke, of Princeton, two promising candidates, were put out in 1904. Twelfth of Hartford, substitute quarter back for Yale, had his spine badly hurt. Yale's substitute half back and guard, were internally injured. After the game with Harvard De Witt, of Yale, had to be taken to a Boston hospital. Tyndeman and Foote, of Cornell, were put out after the game with Princeton. Cated shoulder and a broken nose. Williams, Carlisle's captain, had his spine seriously hurt in the game with Princeton. Thompson and J. B. West, of Columbia, had a collar bone and ankle broken in the Yale game of 1904. Turner, of Brooklyn, and Lawrence, of Barnard, two promising candidates for varsity positions, were put out last year, one with a strained back and the other with a broken collar bone.

Already this season Hollenbeck, of the University of Pennsylvania, a prominent candidate for left end, has had his leg broken above the ankle. And all of the big games and most of the games of lesser importance are yet to be played.

R.-M., 17; INDIANS, 4.

An Exhibition Game in Which There Was Good Playing.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
ASHLAND, VA., October 21.—An exciting game of football was played here this afternoon on the college campus between the "Indians," of Richmond, and the Randolph-Macon team. The game was an exhibition one, and Mr. Russell, the coach of the Randolph-Macon team, made use of most of his men as a test, substituting Harris at left end for Davis, Baldwin at right end for James, Iry at right guard for Harrison, Gaver as full for Bradenbaugh, Dumville as left half for Holland, and Hall as guard for Rand.

The play was swift and hard during the first half of twenty minutes, and several brilliant plays were made. On account of the lateness of the hour of starting play, the second half was sluggish and uninteresting on account of the darkness. In the first half Walters, the right half back of the local team, scored three touchdowns for Randolph-Macon. Gruner, the captain of the "Indians," made several fine plays, one in particular being a drop kick to goal from the twenty yard line, also a sharp and decisive gain through Randolph-Macon's line in the second half. Walters, of the local team, made several long and runs, which were enthusiastically applauded. Dr. Jordan acted as referee, and Mr. E. E. Smith as umpire. The score was 17 to 4 in favor of Randolph-Macon. All of the playing was practically done in the first half, as the darkness in the second half caused much fumbling of the ball on both sides.

V. M. I., 11; ST. JOHN'S 10.

A Hotly Contested Game All in the First Half.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
LEXINGTON, VA., October 21.—Virginia Military Institute this afternoon defeated St. John's College by the score of 11 to 10, in a hotly contested game. All the scoring was done in the first half. John's scored after seven minutes of play. Drop kick from field by Duval and by fake end run along side. Virginia's Military Institute scoring was done by straight football, making most of the gains outside of tackles. Their long gains were weakened by feeble attacks, and the ball was lost at crucial moments on fumbles on downs, and once on penalty. Duval, left half back, was star player for St. John's, and for V. M. I. ended the game with a drop kick from the field. Captain, right half back Beckner, right guard Duval, and end, put up brilliant work. The V. M. I. team showed evidence of rounding into after its many setbacks. Umpire, Captain Rankin, of Washington and Lee. Referee, Mr. "Blank," of Maryland Agricultural College. Halves, twenty and twenty-five minutes.
